Nurse or shopkeeper? One of the many hats a homeless person nurse wears to meet the needs of her client group

BUILDING TRUST - HOMELESS NURSING OUTREACH

By Rachel Smith

Homeless Nurse Specialist Paulette Ragan outreaching in a homeless day centre. The average age of death for street homeless males in the UK is 47. These groups are often called "hard to reach", because even when you find them, gaining trust can be the biggest hurdle.

HELP...I NEED SOMEBODY...NOT JUST ANYBODY

By Kendra Schneller

A homeless nurse practitioner able to assess, diagnose, treat and prescribe. A few of the many enhanced roles of the nurse and how far the profession has come
